Last week, Blue Origin publish two videos of the launch of its New Shepard rocket system that took place earlier this year at the company's launch site in West Texas. According to an article on KnowledgeOrb this effort is to make flight for regular people affordable. It seems like a great goal but I am not so sure that I want to blast off just yet. Also according to the KnowledgeOrb article there was a recent failure which resulted in a loss of the rocket. The internet has made some people a lot of money..maybe this is not the worst thing they could do with it. Hope they succeed but I will wait until a few customers go and prove it us safe before I book my ticket!
